To whom it may concern

Madhu is amazing.

She helped us sell our home recently and we couldn't have done it without her.

Everyone we worked with - title company, contractors, inspectors, etc. - all knew Madhu and had great things to say about her. It was reassuring to us to see what a great reputation she has in the industry.

We never felt pressured from Madhu to do anything. She has the amazing ability to go one hundred miles an hour to get paperwork pushed forward, and offers submitted and then suddenly come to a complete stop and patiently explain what our options are and let us decide without feeling pressured. Throughout the process it was clear that her guiding principles were to be totally honest and to work to achieve our goals - even when it would have been in her interest to sell more quickly.

And Madhu is a joy to spend time with. (If she every offers to cook you something, say "YES!")

We recommend her most highly.
